Foreword

The nation we enter as we graduate from San Juan is known as the land of opportunity. This name is far from being merely three empty words --more than just a flattering title which has no meaning.

The world today is a rainbow, with America the pot of gold which waits at the end. It is the wealthiest nation in the world, and the one which offers the most to the youth who must make their way in the world.

As we go North, or South, or East, or West, we find continuing examples of the greatness of our country. Wherever we go the industry, natural resources, productive farmland, cities and senic beauty of our land is evidenced in abundance.

Through the years, it has been the courage, foresight and perseverance of the American people --Pilgrims, soldiers, pioneers--which has made it a good land. Today we taste of the generosity of America and of the people who made her.

This annual is a reflection of the myriad wonders of the greatest country in the world. It displays some of the landmarks which are symbolic of the history and beauty of the United States, and as you turn the pages we feel that you will get some idea of the pure magnificence of this, our homeland.

This book is dedicated to the seniors who are graduating from San Juan this week. To them, the past has been very important, just as the future is to be very important.

The past covers a great deal of experience and memory. For most of us, it began about the time that the Second World War began. Through the bitter period, we were unconscious of the history which was being made. Our interests were confined to our home and family.

When we were born, Franklin D. Roosevelt was President, but we didn't know about such things, and didn't much care about them. When we reached school, Roosevelt had been dead for three years, and there was a different man in the White House: Harry S. Truman.

Then, when we were in the fifth grade, a man who was known for his skill at directing armies, Dwight D. Eisenhower, tried his hand at directing a nation. By that time, we were very aware of history and knew a lot about Presidents.

Other things were happening too. The television, a thing native to our own generation, had become a powerful influence on our leisure lives. With TV came frozen foods in quantity, and the TV Dinner. We saw cars change from sedate, boxy luxuries, to flashing monsters with insatiable gas-tanks, then back to small, economical necessities.

There were sad things too. The tragic floods in Yuba City during The Christmas season of 1955. The segregation conflicts in 1956. The Chicago school fire. The wreck of the Andrea Doria.

We have grown and changed tremendously in the past; more than we will in any other period of our lives. We have lived our pasts, and soon even the present will become another segment of that past.

Present

As the Class of 1960 leaves San Juan, it enters into a world which is changing constantly. The present is full of fun and problems, and we are trying to make the best of it. This senior year has been very important in the annals of history; not only for us, but for the whole world.

It started on September 4, progressed through football games, basketball season, the Senior Play, the Senior Ball, Senior cut day, a wonderful Junior-Senior Banquet, and up to Baccalaureate and that happy-sad day when we will march up to receive our awards for four years of study.

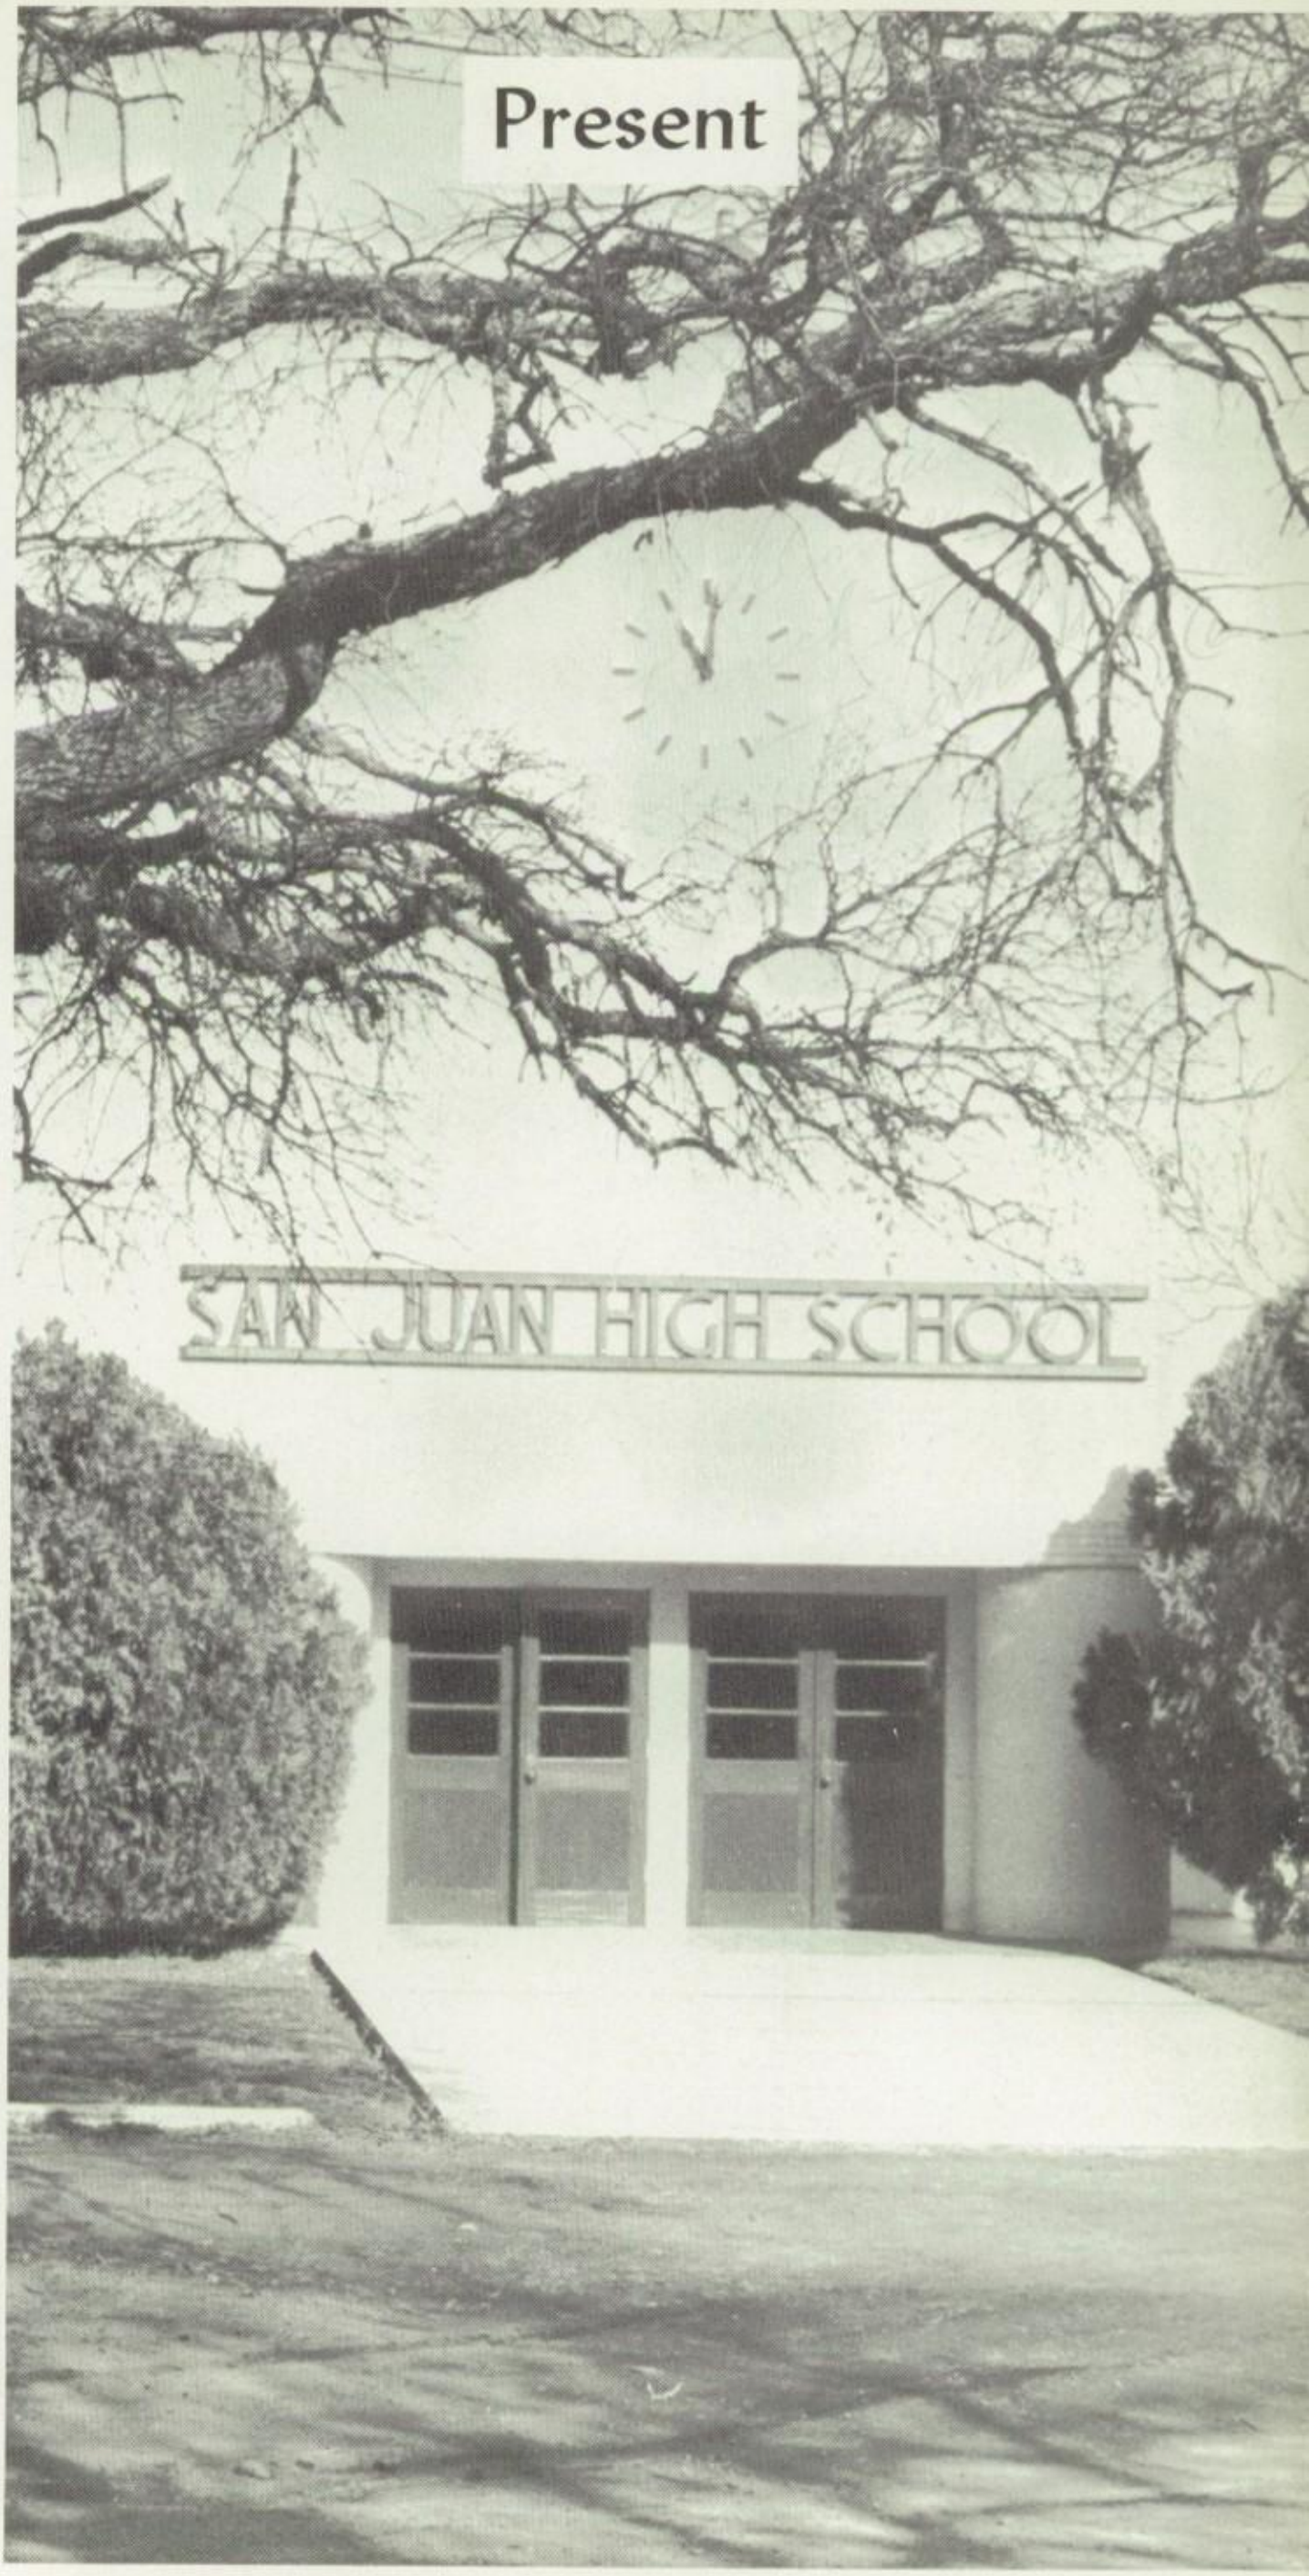
In the outside world many things have happened this year. The Russians have seen the back of the moon, the Olympics have been to California, the Presidential candidates have been chosen, Krushchev and DeGaulle have been to the United States, Eisenhower has toured Europe and South America, and the crippling steel strike which held the country for months has ended.

We have bid fond farewell to Mr. George L. White, our principal since our freshman year, and have welcomed a new principal, Mr. Relfe W. Leavitt. Another White, Mr. Lawrence A. White, from El Camino, came to replace Mr. Leavitt as vice-principal.

Several of the teachers whom we had in our years as underclassmen were gone this year, and although we missed them very much, we welcomed our many new teachers.

Our fads, our friendships, and our ideas have changed this year. We dressed more like adults and less like children; we became closer to some of our old friends, and gained new companions; we studied things we hadn't thought about before, and made some changes in our way of thinking.

Although our present is very important, it will be gone soon, and as we bid it good-by we must turn to the future.



Future

With only a few days and hours left of our high school years, we seek the future. We plan happily, and then wait to see just how closly our dreams will come to being realized.

Our futures will all be different, and will all be what we make them. Some of us will succeed grandly; most of us will be average Americans.

We will spread all over the nation, even all over the world, and some will never return. Then, after five, or ten, or maybe twenty-five years, we will have a class reunion and compare notes with the "kids" we used to go to school with.

Some of our numbers will become professionals; some, students at colleges or universities; some will enter the service. Nearly all will marry, and of those who do, most will become parents. Life will be very short for a few, and very long for others, but most will live the three score and ten alloted us.

The men will hunt, fish, build do-it-yourself projects, join service clubs, work or just loaf. The women will raise children, have careers, join auxiliaries to the service clubs, host "Stanley Parties," work, or just loaf also. Some will travel to the ends of the Earth; some will never go more than a hundred miles from Sacramento.

We will take over the P.T.A., the businesses, the churches, and do those things which the older generation now do. We will champion the March of Dimes, the Girl Scouts, the local bond issues. We will vote, and choose who will run the town, county, state and nation. And we will fight bitterly against anything which threatens our peace or prosperity.

No matter what we do, all our efforts will be in the end directed at making things as good as possible for us and our posterity.

Posterity

Right now the words "Our Posterity" are empty sounding and nearly meaningless to us. We have no posterity now; they will not come for a long time. However, everything we do will have its effect on those who are yet to come.

We are about to go out on our own; to make our lives. We will have children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren. These are our posterity, and we will do our best to make for them a better place in which to live.

We will try to gain world peace; to master disease; to create real friendship; to solve the mysteries of science. We will strive to do away with physical labor through automation--not just for ourselves, but for our posterity.

Our knowledge will be carefully searched, expanded, and preserved for the generations which will come. Our society will be refined and altered to give the best of all we have to our children. And we will endeavor to make things much easier for them that it has been for us.

But it is also important that we leave for them our American tradition of courage, perserverance, friendship, and democracy. We must give them self respect, confidence, insight, love. We must preserve the energetic, untiring strength which made this country free and in the lead of the world.

In a word, we will leave all that we received, and more for those who will be--our posterity.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Those of us who work with young people are often concerned about those who waste time or fail to take advantage of the manifold opportunities of the modern world. This is often true at school where we observe students with ability who seem content to squeak by with barely passing grades.

The ability to use time most advantageously is a real art. It has been said that we should learn to spend time as we do money. Each day we have twenty four hours to spend and we should strive to invest, or spend, these hours in such ways that will give us the greatest return. Time once spent, of course, is gone forever and gone with the misspent hour is the overlooked opportunity to have accomplished something worthwhile or to have said a kind or encouraging word to someone else.

Few of us could not profit from a thoughtful consideration of the poem listed below. Perhaps you are one who could.

"Take the lesson to yourselves, loving hearts and true;
Golden years are fleeting by, youth is fleeting too.
Try to make the most of life, lose no honest way;
Time will never bring again chances passed away.
Leave no tender word unsaid, love while life shall last--
The mill will never grind with the water that has passed.

Oh! The wasted hours of life that have drifted by--
Oh! The good we might have done, lost without a sigh,
Love that we might once have saved, with but a single word,
Thoughts conceived, but never penned, perishing unheard.
Take this lesson to your heart, take, oh! hold it fast--
The mill will never grind with the water that has passed."

(Doudney)

Principal 1960

Congratulations to the Class of 1960 who are now ready to take the next step up the ladder of success. We hope that the last four years have given all of you the basic foundations that are necessary for successful goals in life.

You have had a chance to take courses leading toward college preparation, vocational arts, liberal arts, and many other patterns all set up to meet and help you up the right path toward your goals. We sincerely hope that your years in high school have given you an insight for the future.

As you look back on your high school life with diploma in hand, the reaction is "It was well worth it." High school is really the testing and proving ground of your personality makeup, and what you make of your life can pretty well be traced back through your high school record.

Now that you realize the value of an education, we trust that you will continue on in your educational endeavors.

Relfe W. Leavitt

Vice Principal

The San Juan High School and the San Juan Union High School District are in the throes of a dynamic growth cycle. Growth such as we are experiencing presents many challenging problems to the school and community as well as the students.

Your training and experiences during the past four years have given you a firm foundation upon which to build your present endeavors and future plans. How you have met your problems at school will determine how you will meet your personal problems and those of your country in the years to come. Build solidly--the future is yours.

It has been a real pleasure for me to have joined you during this school year and have shared some of your experiences with you.

No organization in the world does so much for children and youth as does the Parent-Teacher Association. From the local unit to the national organization whenever good things are being done, there you will find PTA in the midst of them.

The high school PTA serves youth by bringing together the home and the school to share their knowledge of adolescent development.

It serves parents by providing the means to meet the parents of their children's friends and to share the problems and insights with them. It gives parents an opportunity to visit with teachers and to exchange information when there is no crisis.

The PTA serves teachers and administrators by interpreting the school program to parents and to clarify misunderstandings about modern teaching methods.

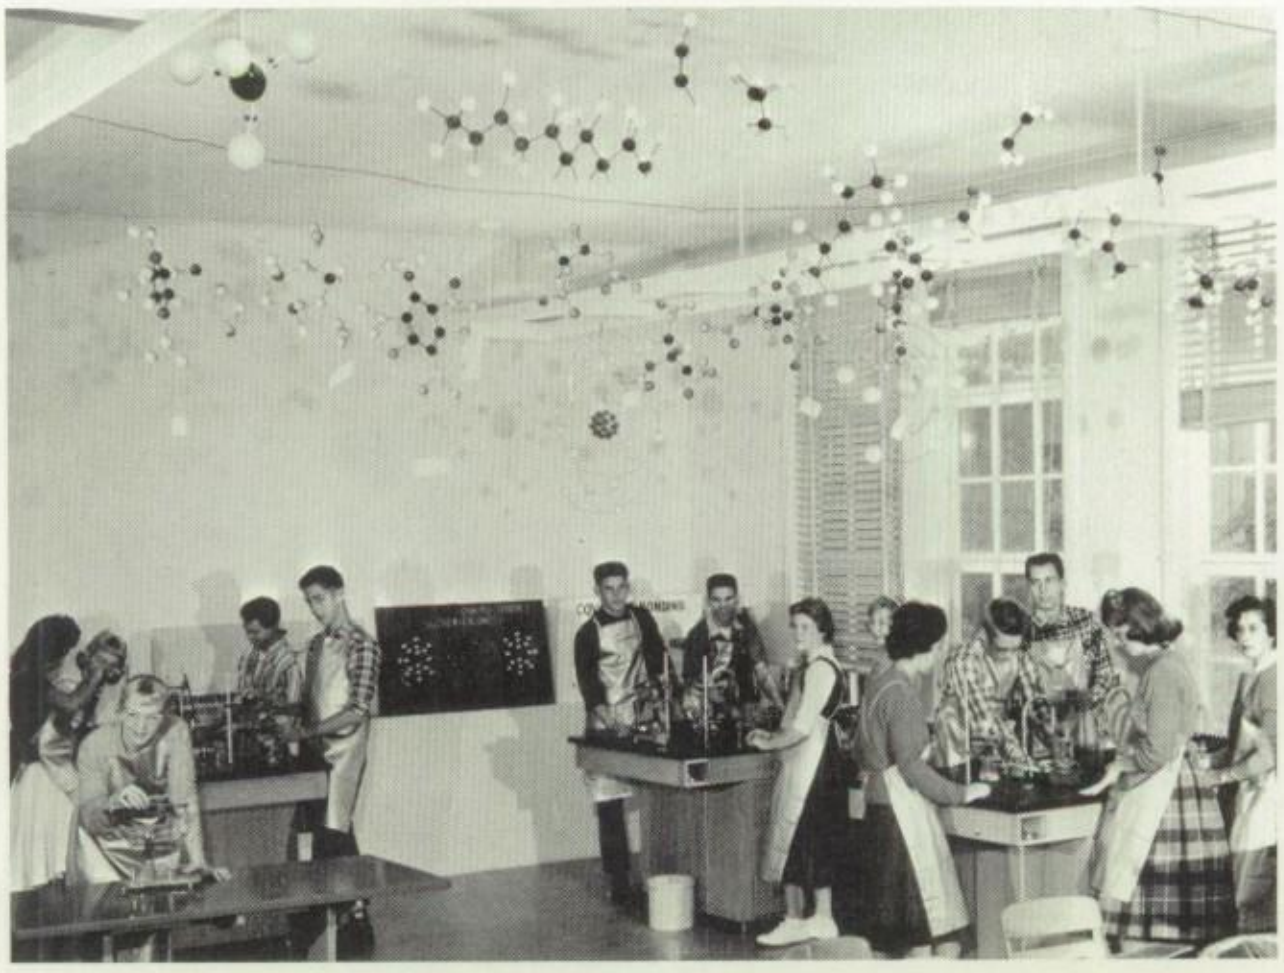
Would you believe it?

Mr. A. J. Crossfield

The new chemistry room, under the direction of Mr. Crossfield, is an example of modern science. This room is a great improvement over the old chemistry room, as it has more space for laboratory experiments and also for new equipment. The class itself has been enlightened by the new measuring scales and deodorizer which eliminates many of the smells that drift from the room into the halls.

Busy chemistry students!



The student body is pleased that Mr. Crossfield finally received his new science room.

Under the direction of Mr. LaDue, the new physics and chemistry room is an example of the new look in science. This spacious room is a place where many student and teacher experiments take place, and is a source of a great deal of knowledge.

Under the direction of Miss Cale and Mrs. Christianson, our library has been a source of education and enjoyment. They have unselfishly given their time and help on many occasions to the faculty and students. Thanks go to the librarians for a job well done.

Nurse

The students of San Juan are familiar with their lady in white, Mrs. Pansy Carrick. The responsibility of the school nurse includes leadership and guidance in the development of the total school health program. She serves as consultant to the administration on the health problems of students. She acquaints the administration and school personnel about health problems in the school, home, and community. In general, she helps to make health education function in the every day life of the students at San Juan.

A hearty thanks from the San Juan Student body to you, Mrs. Carrick.

Good food! This is the main accomplishment of our cafeteria workers. They prepare meals daily for students, teachers and guests. Our school has been supplied with its own rolls, pies and cakes through the skill of our cafeteria workers. These fine workers are also in charge of running our snack bar. They place our orders for the refreshments that we sell at the concession stand. They are also in charge of the preparations for the Boy's Block and C.S.F. banquets. Yes, we owe many thanks to our splendid cafeteria workers.

A people without a religion is a people without hope. The basis of America's freedom is the right to believe as each individual wishes to believe. It is impossible to find a town in this country which doesn't have churches or at least worshippers within it.

Varsity Cheerleaders

No one deserves more credit for encouraging and promoting school spirit than the Varsity Cheerleaders of 1959-60. These fine girls, Joan Henry, Pat Korby (head), Jean Howard, and Arlene Jorgensen, have done a wonderful job in leading San Juan at football games, basketball games, and rallys. Full of pep and enthusiasm thay have contributed unselfishly to the sports events.

Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders

Whether it be sun, or rain, the Junior Varsity Yell Leaders, Marla Bolin, Tex Hagler, (head), Janet Jorgensen, and Shannon Weaver, were always at the games. These Junior girls were a peppy foursome and were often seen practicing their smart yells. As Junior Varisty boosters these girls did a tremendous job in inspiring the San Juan Spartans on to a very successfull season during 1959-60.

Lynda Campbell (head) , Jerilynn Millert, Phyllis Hughes, and Sandra Farlee, demonstrated an enthusiastic attitude and sincere devotion to San Juan. Their original outfits and peppy routines brought many comments of admiration.

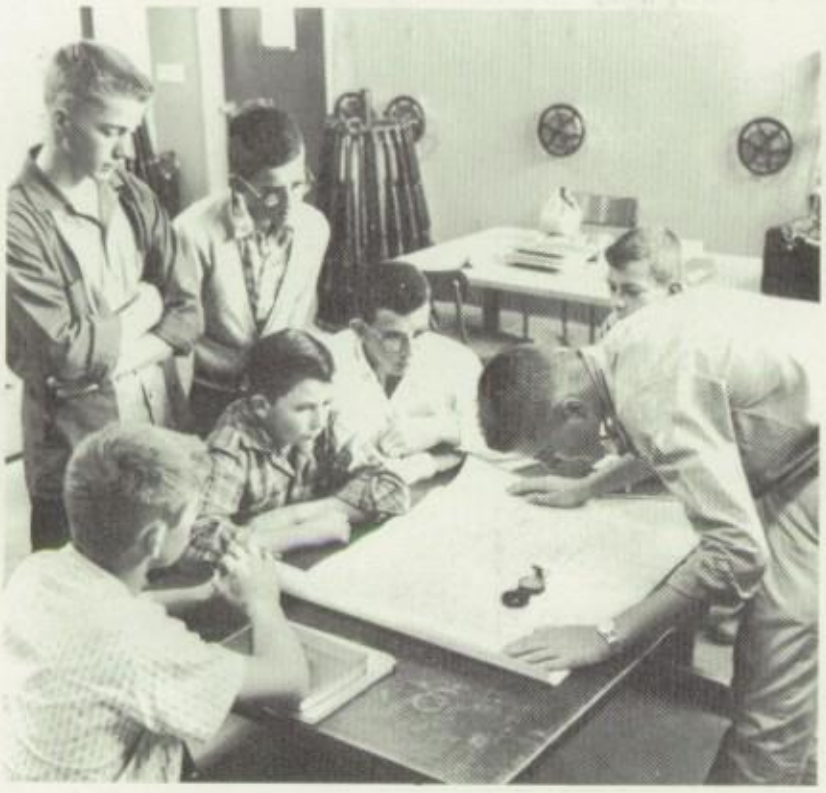
BEGINNERS MARCH

ORIENTATION



All instructions in the Cadet program, both in the classroom and the drill field is conducted by the Cadet officers and non-coms. This enables the boys to develop leadership ability by learning it first hand.

Cadets

The California Cadet Corps' primary objective is to promote the development of leadership, The military form of organization provides the cadets with an opportunity to practice leadership in practical situations.

In addition to the classroom program the cadets sponsor highly successful rifle and drill teams. They also help the student body by providing M.P's for parking cars at the games, dances, plays and various other activites.

On this page are some pictures of Cadet instructors at work giving lectures, demonstrations, and drilling their troops. The picture below shows a company working on everyday administrative functions.

Senior Ball

Many students participated in the dance contest.

The Senior Ball was attended and enjoyed by many students. Excellent decorations, refreshments, and entertainment were provided. Held in the cafeteria, it was an affair long to be remembered.

Junior Prom

What's the matter Steve? Is your coat too small?

Bob Steen provided good entertainment.

The Junior Prom, "Moonlight and Roses," was one of the most successful events of the year. Students danced to the music of Bob Steen and a good time was had by all.

The decorations were certainly beautiful

Variety Show

The Variety Show, directed by Mrs. Jean Curtis and Mr. John Condie, is produced annually at San Juan. Successes in past years, "Paris Holiday" in '58, "South Of The Border" in '59, and '60's "Out Of This World," have really proved the students versatility at presenting outstanding shows.

"But I'm too young to get married," exclaims Bill Stacy while Margaret Mercer appears over-enthusiastic.

La Mar Fulmer, Gwen Hall, and Rodger Call were excellent student directors.

"Say That We're Sweethearts Again" pleads Edwina Aguina.

Tone Evang and Jan White delighted the audience with an original Norwegian dance.

"Out of This World"

"Out Of This World," the title of the Variety Show for 1960, was certainly a presentation never to be forgotten. The dialogue and scenery were equal to the excellent talent and costumes. Thank you cast for a terrific performance!

Rita Warbington and Bob McArthur enjoyed playing Cupid.

Sue Seagraves took time out for a dance on Cloud 7.

Play

"The Matchmaker"

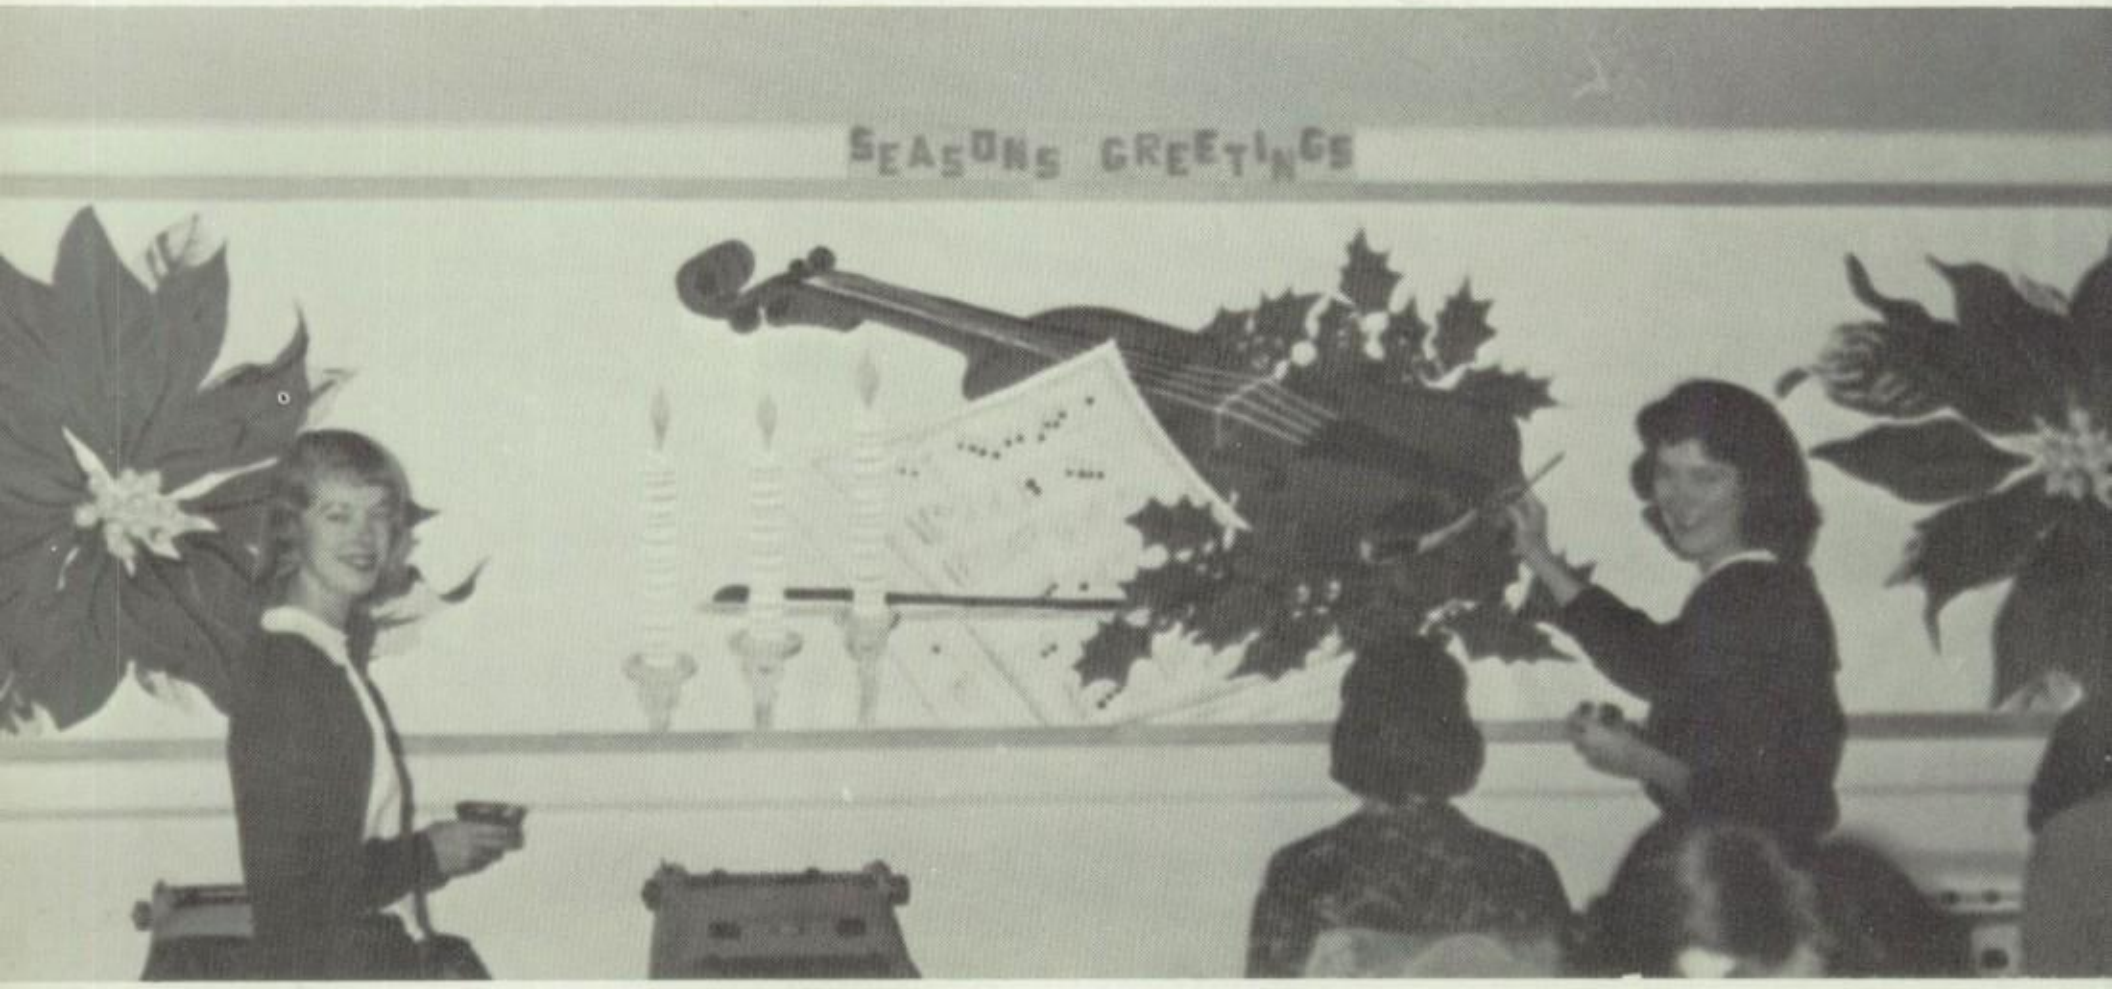
A certain old merchant of Yonkers is now so rich that he decides to take a wife. To this end he employs a matchmaker, a woman who subsequently becomes involved with two menial clerks, assorted young ladies, and the headwaiter at an expensive restaurant where this swift farce runs headlong into a hilarious climax of complication. After everyone gets all straightened out romantically, and everyone has his heart's desire, the merchant of Yonkers finds himself affianced to the astute matchmaker herself. He who was so shrewd in business is putty in the hands of the matchmaker. He is fooled by apprentices in a series of hilarious hide-and-seek scenes, and finally had all his bluster explode in his face.

Peggy Hudacek

Was this in the script?

It is regrettable that the Junior Play was presented too late in the year to be included in the annual. However, at this time, we would like to acknowledge the class and thank them for a job well done, equal to the standards set by previous Junior Plays.

San Juan's Christmas



During the month of December, 1959, the spirit of Christmas came to San Juan. The windows of the cafeteria were gayly decorated by Miss Ruth A. Morgan's advanced art classes. Banners in the hall and shadow boxes in the library were a further addition to the school's Christmas beauty.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jean Curtis, the harmonious voices of the A Cappella Choir, Elizabethan Choir, and the Junior Choirs were presented to the public at the annual Christmas Program. The Symphonic Band, under the direction of Mr. Maddux Hogan, also performed at this program.

Members of Mr. Haward Swolgard's Art and Palette Club made and sold Christmas cards to the students and faculty.

The Christmas dance, "Winter Fantasy," was put on by the freshman class and sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Krefting and Mr. Don Laing was a great success. It was a final farewell to the most exciting Christmas San Juan has ever had.

This year California was privileged to hold the 1960 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley. A splendid performance was given when our A Capella Choir combined with other choirs from all over California for the opening day ceremonies.

Symphonic Band is composed of students who have outstanding musical talent. They have had several years of training and, under the skillful direction of Mr. Hogin, combine their individual talents into one harmonizing effect.

This group, definitely a very important part of our musical department, performs annually at the Christmas program and the Spring Concert. Its performance at these two events was outstanding this year.

Many band members took part in the Variety Show this year. Some of them played solos and others helped by accompaning.

Completing one of the most triumphant seasons in campus history, the San Juan Symphonic Band had for its final engagement the annual graduation exercises

I don't think I really got to know until this, but you certainly are fun to be around. I really appreciate the transportation you have been giving us this year, and I hope we haven't been inconveniencing you too much. It's too bad that our little quartette has to be broken up, but at least Anita says she won't be moving. It would really be nice if we could get together for a while this summer..

Best of Luck next year

Mothers' Tea

The Mothers' Tea is an annual event which takes place in the spring. It is put on by the officers and members of Girls' League. The reception consists of a talent and fashion show. The girls in the sewing classes model clothes that they have made during the year. Commentators are selected to discribe the fashions as they are modeled.

After the program the mothers are escorted to the cafeteria by their daughters and greeted in a receiving line by all the Girls' League officers. To conclude the reception refreshments are served.

The Varsity Football Team enjoyed one of their better seasons under Coach Pierucci. After losing their first game to a very strong Grant Union team, they moved on to beat El Camino and last years Metropolitan Champion, Norte Del Rio, and lost only one game in the league for a second place finish.

Football

The Spartans used a straight "T" and wing "T" to be the fifth rank offensive team in the Sacramento area. San Juan's main strength, however, lay in their yard pinching defense lead by such defensive stalwarts as Jerry Stienke, Doug Turner, Ernie Cloud, and Jim Gauldin. Hail the Spartans, for a very satisfactory season.

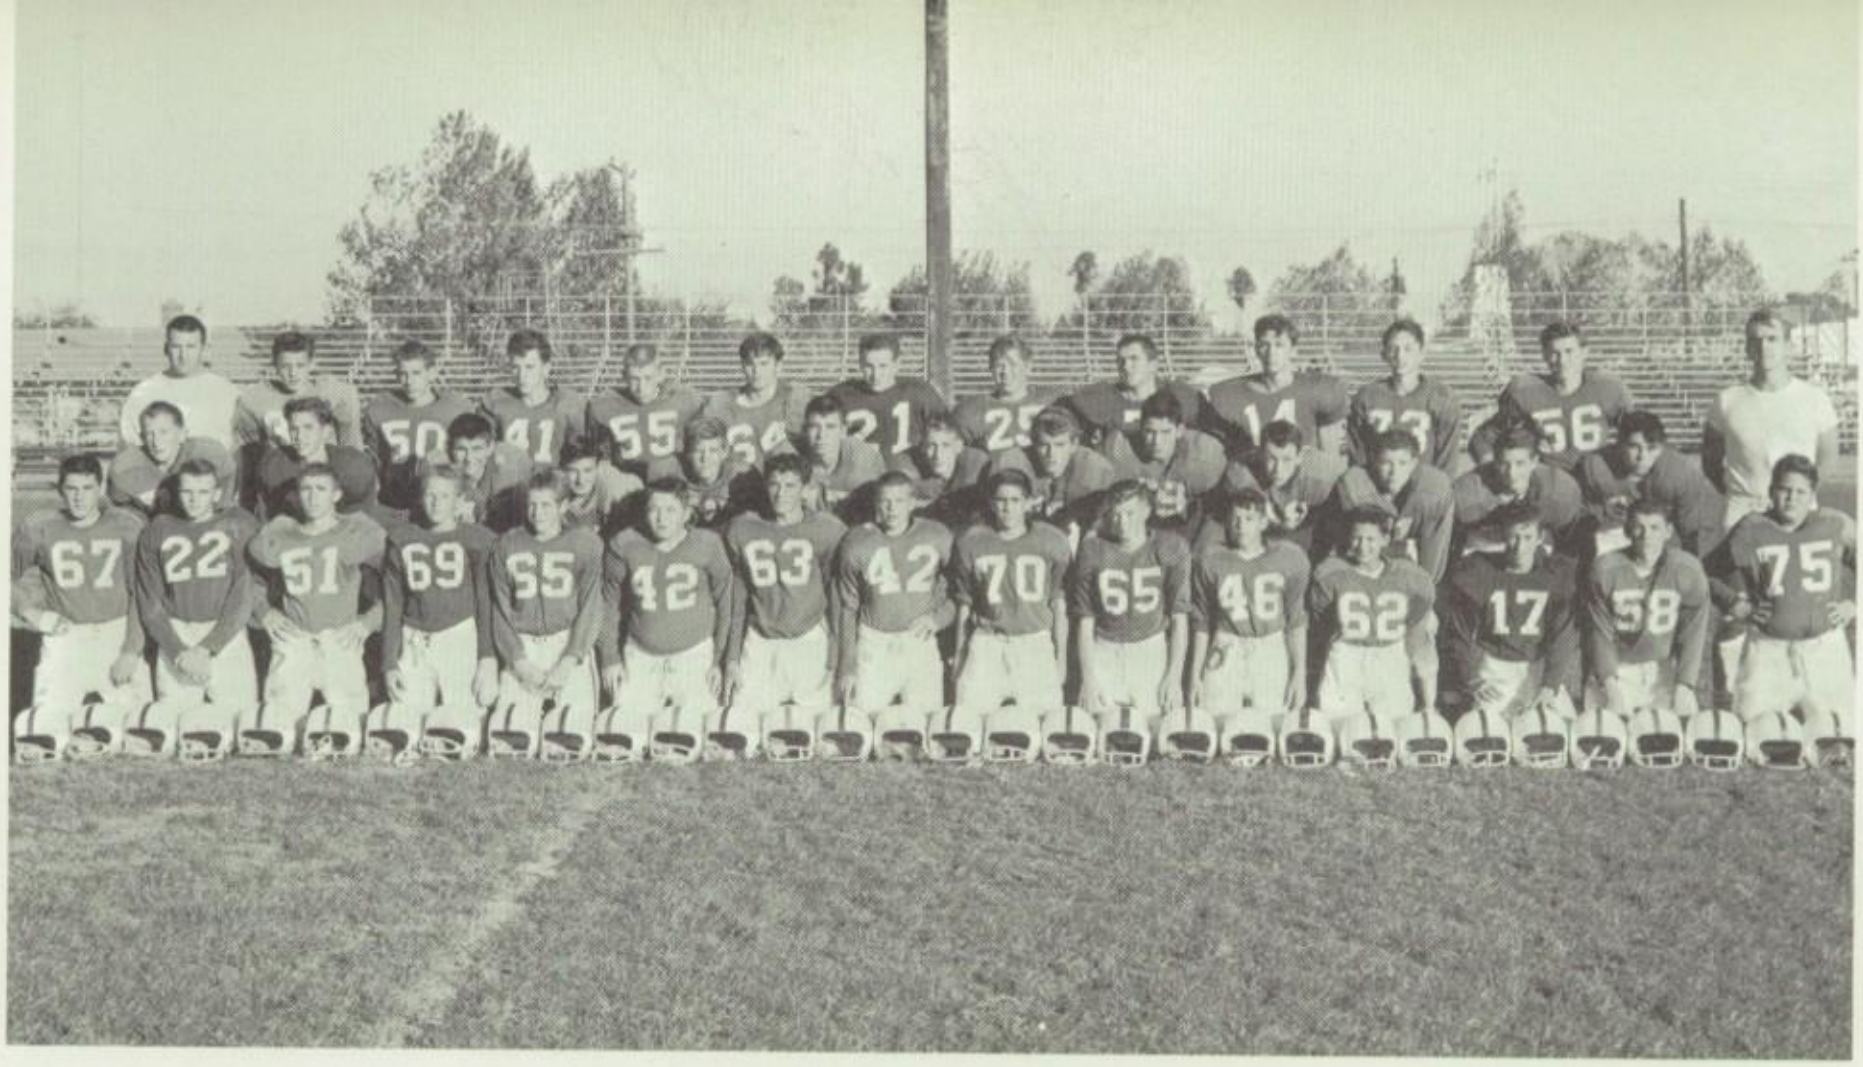
J. V. Football

Ray Schultz, coaching his last year at San Juan, amply proved his coaching abilities by piloting his Junior Varsity football team to a 1960 championship in the Golden Empire League. Things started going well during the Norte Del Rio game and thereafter the J.V. never lost a game.

The laurels were distributed among sophomores such as Bob McArthur, quarterback; Chuck Lindsey, halfback; and Ken Bybee, outstanding lineman. Outstanding freshman was Mike Richardson.

All the boys worked hard and long for the championship they earned and they deserve the full commendation of the Student Body.



ROW I: L-R: B. Cummins, A. Wyckoff, R. Thompson, K. Branson, R. Bryant, A. Rogers, J. McCullaugh, J. Mikles, R. Nardinelli, D. Taggart, L. Schuster, J. Whaley, T. Callaway, D. Michaut, V. Shubert. Frosh Football

Under the guidance of Coach Phillips, and Coach Larson, this year's freshman team completed a very successful season. With such boys as John De Visscher, Ron Nardinelli, and Ron Foster coming up to next year's J.V. team, San Juan should have another championship squad.

ROW I: C. Shaw, S. Hill, B. Barnes, L. Shuman, W. Wycoff, K. Leone, P. Post, D. Price, C. Pinson, P. Tillinghast, L. Saxtoy. ROW II: E. Harless, D. Jehn, F. Valine, D. Martin, B. Keller, M. Cross-Country

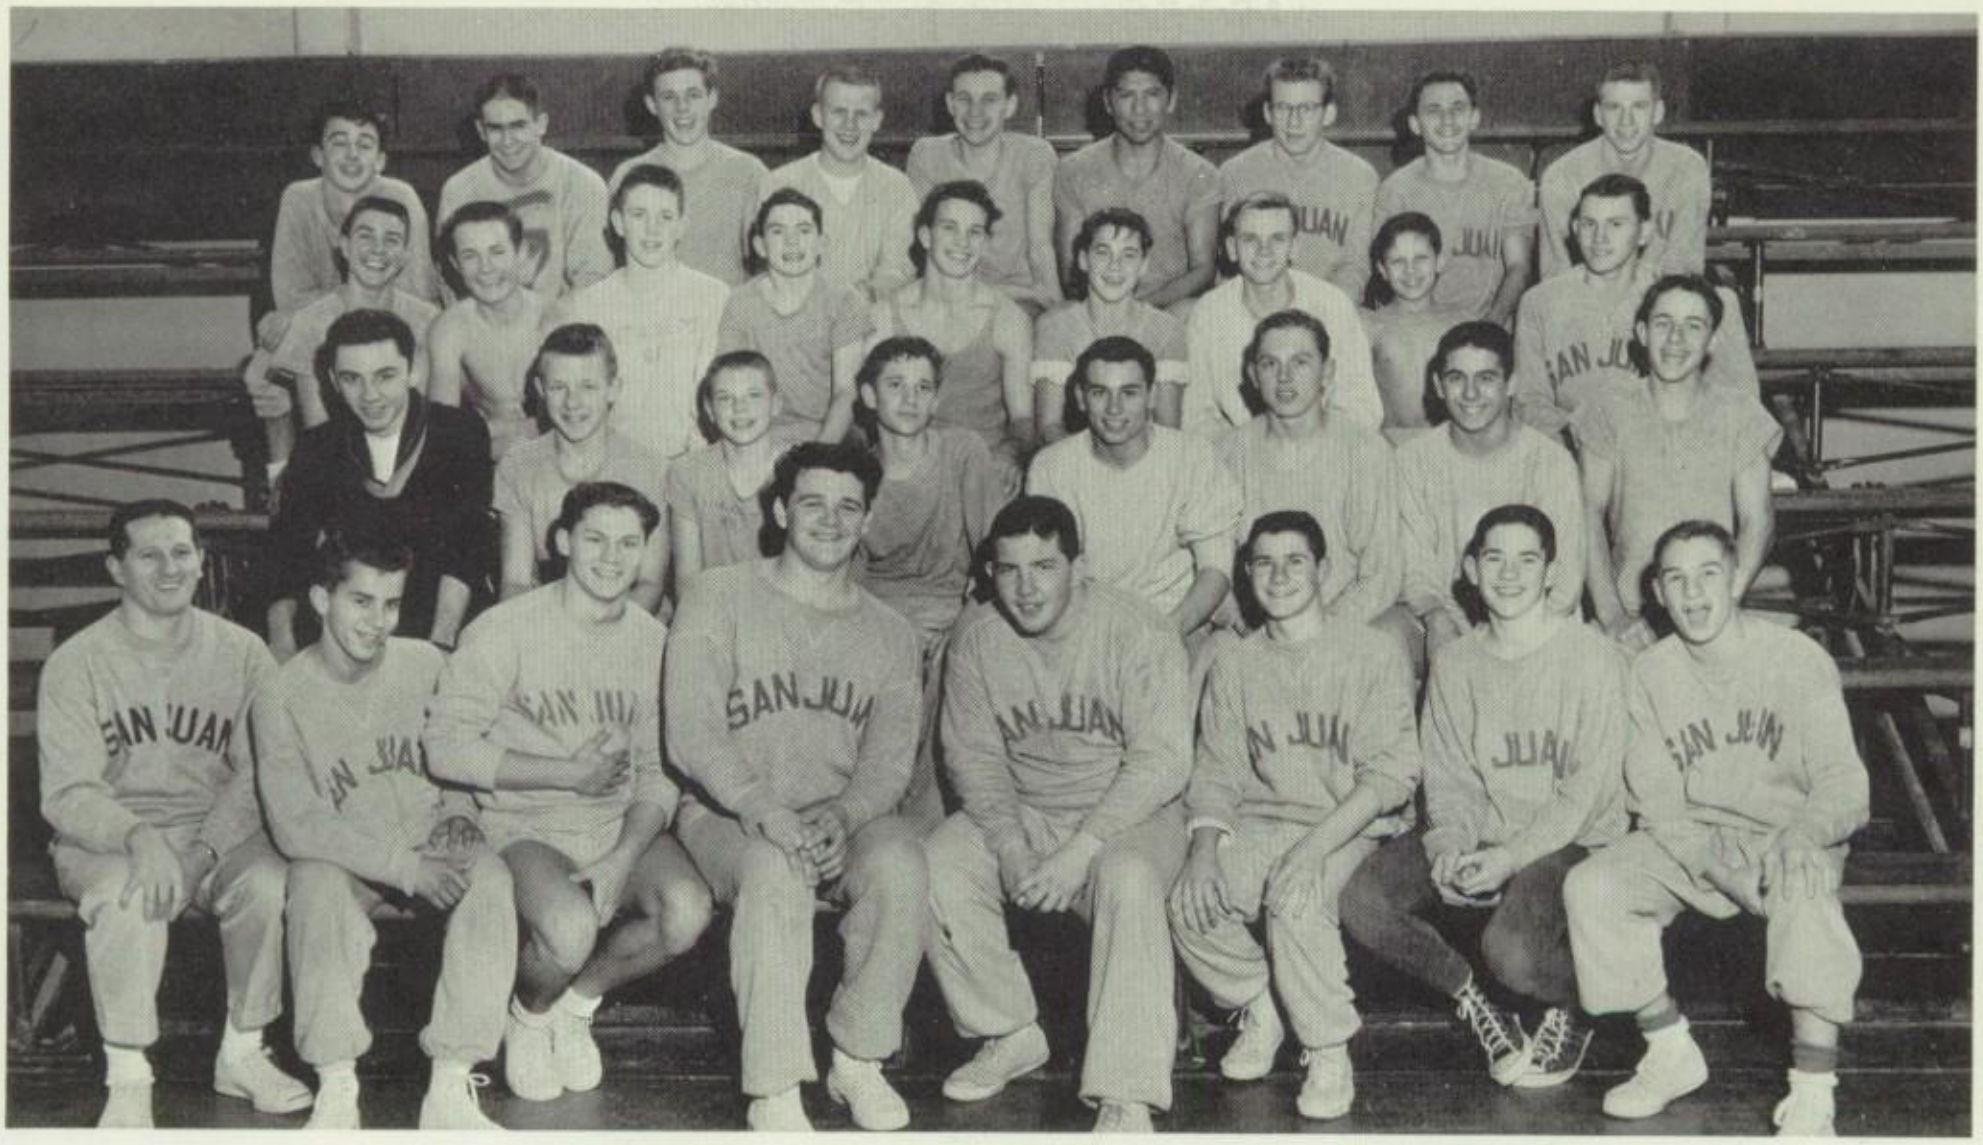
The Cross-country teams had one of the best seasons ever experienced at San Juan. The "B" team took first in the league and captured the section meet at Sacramento. The "A's" and "C's" also turned creditable performances.

The "A" team was lead by such performers as Walt Wycoff and Maurie Rassmussen. Bob Gardner and Ken Leone battled it out for first man for the "B's." Ken McDonald was the "C's" outstanding runner.

With a tremendous group of runners coming up, it looks like another very successful season for coach Frank Evers and his teams. Let's give them our school spirit next year and the teams will go on to another year of winning ways.



ROW I: Coach Pierucci, M. Uribe, T. Allen, B. Evans, D. Turner, A. Hopkins, H. Yielding, J. Grant. ROW II: D. Bonebrake, B. Castleberry, J. Mickles, J. McMurtrie, L. Bennet, D. Freeman, F. Valine, D. Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Basketball Team ended the season in second place. Their league record was 8-2. One of the most pleasant surprises of the league was beating La Sierra in the second encounter with them.

In the Placer Tournament the Spartans came in second behind the well-balanced Willow's team that had lots of experience on them. Steve Bews made the first all-tourney team while Jim Sims and Clyde Stone made the second all-tourney team. San Juan also won the sportsmanship trophy along with the outstanding rooting section award.

With Coach Schwall losing only one starter, Dennis Hanson and with two sophomores and two juniors on the first five this year nothing but a first place finish is looked forward to next season.

Quill & Scroll

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for high school journalists, was organized by a group of teachers who wished to recognize and to reward worthy high school journalists.

To become a member of the society, a student must pass four tests: He must be recommended for membership by the advisor of journalistic work in school or by the committee governing publications, he must be scholastically in the upper third of his class, he must have done distinctive work in some phase of journalism, and he must be approved as being worthy of membership by the society's candidate qualifications for membership. A complete record of his high school work is submitted for their inspection.

Quill and Scroll desires to make membership an honor that will stand everywhere for the highest type of journalists' achievement.

Lights Staff

The goal and purpose of the Spartan Hi-Lights Staff is to inform the student body of campus activities, community events, and problems.

Last year the school newspaper won the first place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and the International Quill and Scroll Association. It also received a first place award from the 22nd School Press Project sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Sponsored by Miss Ruth A. Morgan, the Staff is composed of competent students who work hard to give the student body an outstanding newspaper. It keeps the student body up to date on all the dances, games, plays, assemblies, and musical activities.

Camera Club

To give interested students a better understanding of photographic processes is the purpose of Camera Club. Under the direction of Mr. Taggert, the club members learn to develop, retouch, and reproduce pictures.

Throughout the year they are kept busy taking pictures of the various school activities. At the football, basketball, and baseball games they can be seen taking excellent action shots.

The Camera Club deals with a hobby that not only gives personal satisfaction, but also helps to preserve a part of America through lasting pictures.
